Please download the install file below from our web site - if you have not done so already - Please note this installation is compatible with Windows 2000 and later only - if you have an earlier version of Windows (e.g. Windows 9x/NT) please contact us using the information below.

Download installation file :
<http://www.docu-track.com/PDFX4.zip>

All installations downloaded are in the ZIP file format for security purposes and initially evaluation versions, this is enabled by inserting your serial number in the installer when requested.

If you have downloaded very recently a trial version - this can be enabled to be 'live' by re-running the installer and copy/pasting the serial number when requested into the appropriate field. However we do recommend that you periodically download a new version to be sure you have the latest possible release.

window of the installation routine when requested.

Failure to enter this code correctly will result in the evaluation watermark/stamp being printed on all your PDF documents created by PDF-XChange. So please copy/paste the serial number - as typing can result in errors and there should be no spaces before or after.

Please also note purchasing a single license entitles you to install this product on a single users PC - if you require additional licenses these must be paid for. Volume discounts are available.

If you need assistance please visit this page on our web site.
